ATC-ONLANE AWARDED WHEELS, INC.'S INAUGURAL OUTSTANDING TECHNOLOGY PARTNER OF THE YEAR AWARD

ATC-Online Honored for Excellence by Wheels for Fifth Consecutive Year

MENLO PARK, Calif., Sept. 26, 2007 —ATC-Online, the largest online auction company in North America for automotive dealers to purchase and sell wholesale vehicles, today announced it has been awarded the 2007 Wheels, Inc. Outstanding Technology Partner of the Year Award. ATC-Online was honored with this first-time award by Wheels Inc., a leader in the automotive fleet management industry, for the company's ongoing efforts to evolve and enhance the technology solutions that power several of Wheels' end-to-end Internet remarketing programs across the U.S. and Canada.

“As a true pioneer in the online auction space for wholesale vehicles, ATC-Online's technology sets it apart from other solutions in the marketplace,” said Darrin Aiken, Assistant vice president of remarketing at Wheels, Inc. “The company's devotion to consistently evolving its platform in line with real-world marketplace demands has allowed us to offer the best possible service to our customers. The company's rich legacy of innovation within the online remarketing industry also helped them earn exceptional recognition for the fifth consecutive year.”

Wheels' remarketing network comprises more than 140 vendors that include auctions, wholesale dealers and Internet auction providers, and ATC-Online has consistently been a recipient of Wheels' Partner awards in the past for excellence in quality and service. This year, ATC-Online received Wheels' first Outstanding Technology Partner of the Year Award based on its adaptable solutions, dedication to investing in its technology
